State of the market

The COVID-19 pandemic has dramatically altered priorities among employees and businesses. Employees are now questioning their current positions and shifting towards businesses which align towards their own personal values. At the same time, businesses are seeking new talent to assist them with remaining relevant and competitive in order to adapt to the current climate – It’s either disrupt or be disrupted. This has led to a hiring frenzy whereby the battle for talent is even more competitive. Consequently, it is becoming increasingly important to engage experts in the recruitment field to help make sense of how interest can best be aligned.

Adopting a comprehensive approach to empower individuals among many aspects of life, ensures we are keeping up-to date on the evolving priorities of candidates. Whilst the crypto and fin-tech space is booming, hiring is a prevalent challenge in the financial sector. Therefore, it has become increasingly important to bolster recruitment efforts to effectively meet requirements.

Both Hong Kong and Singapore are recognised as two of the leading financial hubs in the world, providing a fantastic opportunity for financial employment among clients and candidates. This has been furthered through the relaxing of fintech rules within Hong Kong, encouraging private and public enterprises to establish themselves to capitalise on this pioneering investment. Through fintech being a relatively new disruptive technology, it is highly advisable to rely on world-class recruitment experts within this field to guarantee optimal decision making.
