

EM
&C

The EM&C team is made up of a dynamic group of designers from different countries and backgrounds who are passionate about design. Not only does this give us the advantage of bringing culturally diverse perspectives to each of our projects but makes for a truly collaborative environment.

Our studio is in a creative collective in the constantly evolving and historic district of Sheung Wan neighbourhood, a mere ten minutes from Central.

Although a full-service interior design studio, we have successfully collaborated with architects and designers on projects in Hong Kong and beyond. EM&C offers a wide range of interior design services including design consultancy and design-build consultancy. At EM&C, we understand every project has its own story, what is yours?

Projects

Ladies' Recreation Club

LRC, Design & Build, 2,700 sqft

Private & Confidential

The Brief

Inspired by the timeless beauty of tennis courts, this project transforms the private members’ club into a captivating visual and tactile experience. The scope encompasses the sports reception and retail space, waiting area, male changing room, and wellness facilities, including state-of-the-art steam rooms, saunas, and an ice plunge. These wellness areas are designed as sculptural retreats, inviting members to unwind in an environment where every detail celebrates balance, movement, and enduring elegance.

Inspired by terracotta hues, earthy greens, and crisp whites, the design creates a serene yet vibrant palette. Clean lines and structured patterns evoke the rhythm and energy of the game, while geometric forms, realised through custom tiling, lighting, and material interplay, blend heritage with modern elegance.

The Entrance

The two spaces are divided and arranged so that one area contains the showcase, retail shop, and a bespoke seating booth in green hues. The rest of the space reflects soft, natural colours of wood and beige, with hints of terracotta.

The showcase and retail zone is anchored by the bespoke seating booth — upholstered in green fabric and surrounded by glass display cabinets for easier access to the members of the club.

Lockers Area

All lockers are perfectly aligned. Despite the different sizes of lockers, there is a coherent line throughout the space. The details of the ceiling groove, the flooring, the lockers, and the booth seating were all inspired by a tennis court. The functional aspect of the lockers also includes towel drops and a full-length mirror.

The whole project has a very linear look and feel. To soften the architecture, we created a curved vanity with the wavy lines of the vanity - clad with stone too to provide a smooth yet elegant features in the space

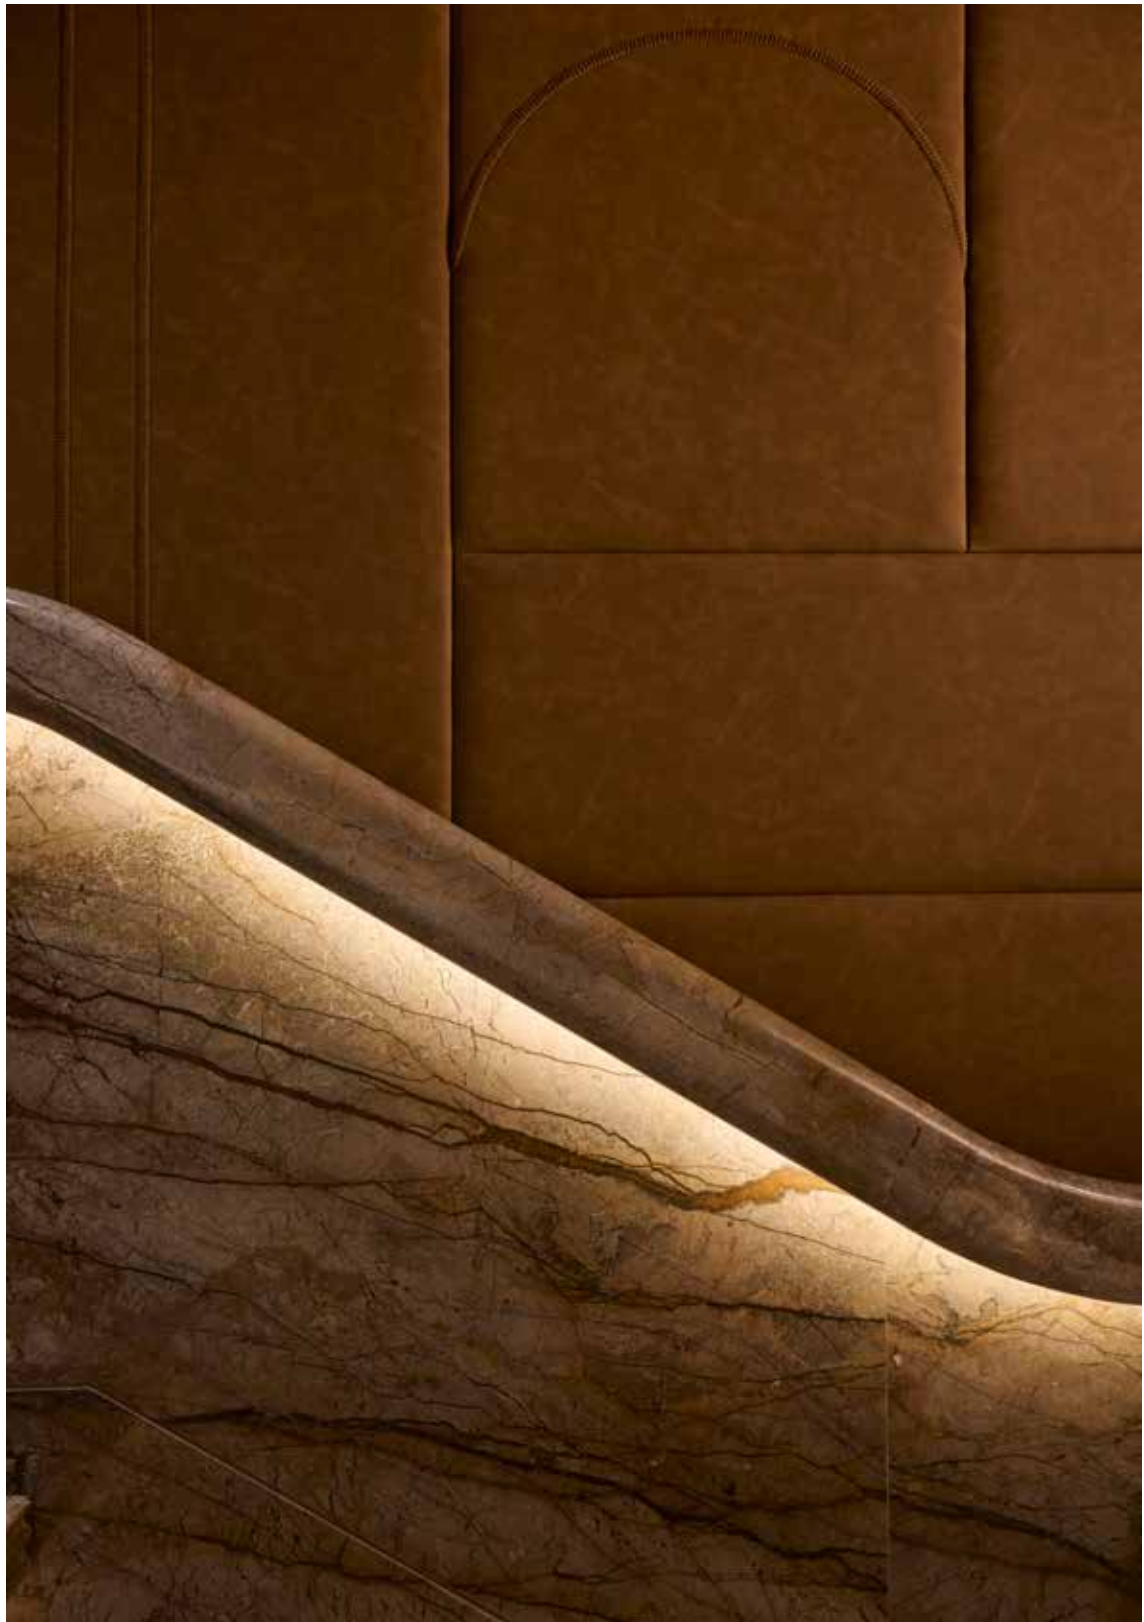

Private Club, Wellness Centre

Hong Kong Club, Full Scope, 18,000 sqft

Private & Confidential

The Entrance

Upon entering the Sports & Wellness Centre, a custom marble staircase serves as the primary link between the two floors. Nestled between two beams, we designed a coved ceiling finished with Venetian plaster with subtle lighting that illuminates the staircase, helping guide Members between the floors.

Taking inspiration from the architectural features of the original structure, the staircase includes a bespoke leather wall panel adorned with arch details and stitching, creating a striking contrast between the textures of the wall panel and staircase.

The Café

The Café stands as the heart of the wellness centre, serving as its vibrant epicentre. Its circular design fosters an organic flow of members, effortlessly guiding them from the entrance to the Café and beyond to the changing rooms and other facilities. This thoughtful layout creates a seamless transition, enhancing the overall experience of the space.

The Café is not merely a place to grab a light meal; it serves as a social hub where members can collect their locker keys and reconnect with fellow patrons. The ambiance invites conversation and camaraderie, making it an ideal spot to unwind before or after a wellness session.

Gentlemen’s Changing Room

Sustainability plays a crucial role in our selection of materials; we strive to source locally whenever feasible and choose materials that are both durable and low-maintenance. For example, we opted for tiles in certain areas rather than marble, promoting uniformity across the entire design and guarantees that the Wellness Centre is constructed for longevity, offering a lasting space for Members to enjoy for many years ahead.

Ladies Changing Room – Wet Area

The main objective for the newly renovated changing room was to improve its facilities by incorporating additional showers, grooming stations, and lockers equipped with a modern locking system. In addition to the traditional steam and sauna cabins, we also included experience showers, offering Members with a multitude of options for relaxation.

The Barber Shop

Drawing inspiration from the original architectural style and the history of the Club, the Barber-shop incorporates traditional design elements that pay homage to past aesthetics while maintaining a modern sensibility. The overall mood of the space is both understated and striking, with custom stone floor tiles that introduce a gentle movement within the space, complemented by a bold, textured wallpaper that enhances the dramatic effect on the walls.

The Heritage Building

Designed by Austrian-born Australian architect Harry Seidler, the Club’s current home sits within a prominent harbour location on Jackson Road. The illustrious private members’ club, established in 1846 and renowned for its exclusivity, has been housed within Seidler’s only building in Hong Kong since 1984.

Happy Valley Residence

Private Home, Full Scope, 570 sqft

Private & Confidential

The Brief

This elegantly reimagined apartment harmonizes comfort and functionality, transforming a three-room layout into two expansive zones for living and working. The open-concept design seamlessly blends a modern kitchen and dining area, anchored by a striking island table ideal for cooking and entertaining.

Inspired by Sydney’s tranquil rock pools, the soothing colour palette fosters serenity, while curated artwork adds character. The kitchen shines with green marble countertops, Dekalog veneer cabinetry, and sleek appliances, marrying aesthetics with practicality.

Abundant natural light floods the living area, enhancing the airy ambience, while smart storage and soft forms ensure functionality.

The Southside of Hong Kong

EM&C worked closely with the Sino Group on several feature areas, including the lighting installation at the ground floor group check-in reception, all FF&E for the outdoor terrace/ lawn, feature lighting and seating areas throughout the lift lobbies and corridors, and all guest room furniture, art and accessories.

Located in Aberdeen, Hong Kong, the concept for The Fullerton Ocean Park Hotel was inspired by the setting of the Southside.

The Brief

Its historic ambiance, reflecting over 160 years of the club's rich legacy, creates a sense of belonging and continuity. The bar's lively atmosphere, especially during events like the Around The Island Race or Rolex China Sea Race, buzzes with energy, reinforced by traditions like the climbing of the iconic bell, symbolizing shared experiences.

Offering stunning harbour views, it's a place where members connect over drinks, from the signature Gunner to curated wines, strengthening the club's tight-knit community. Open daily with a relaxed yet elegant vibe, the Main Bar embodies the RHKYC's passion for water sports and social engagement, making it the emotional and social cornerstone of the club.

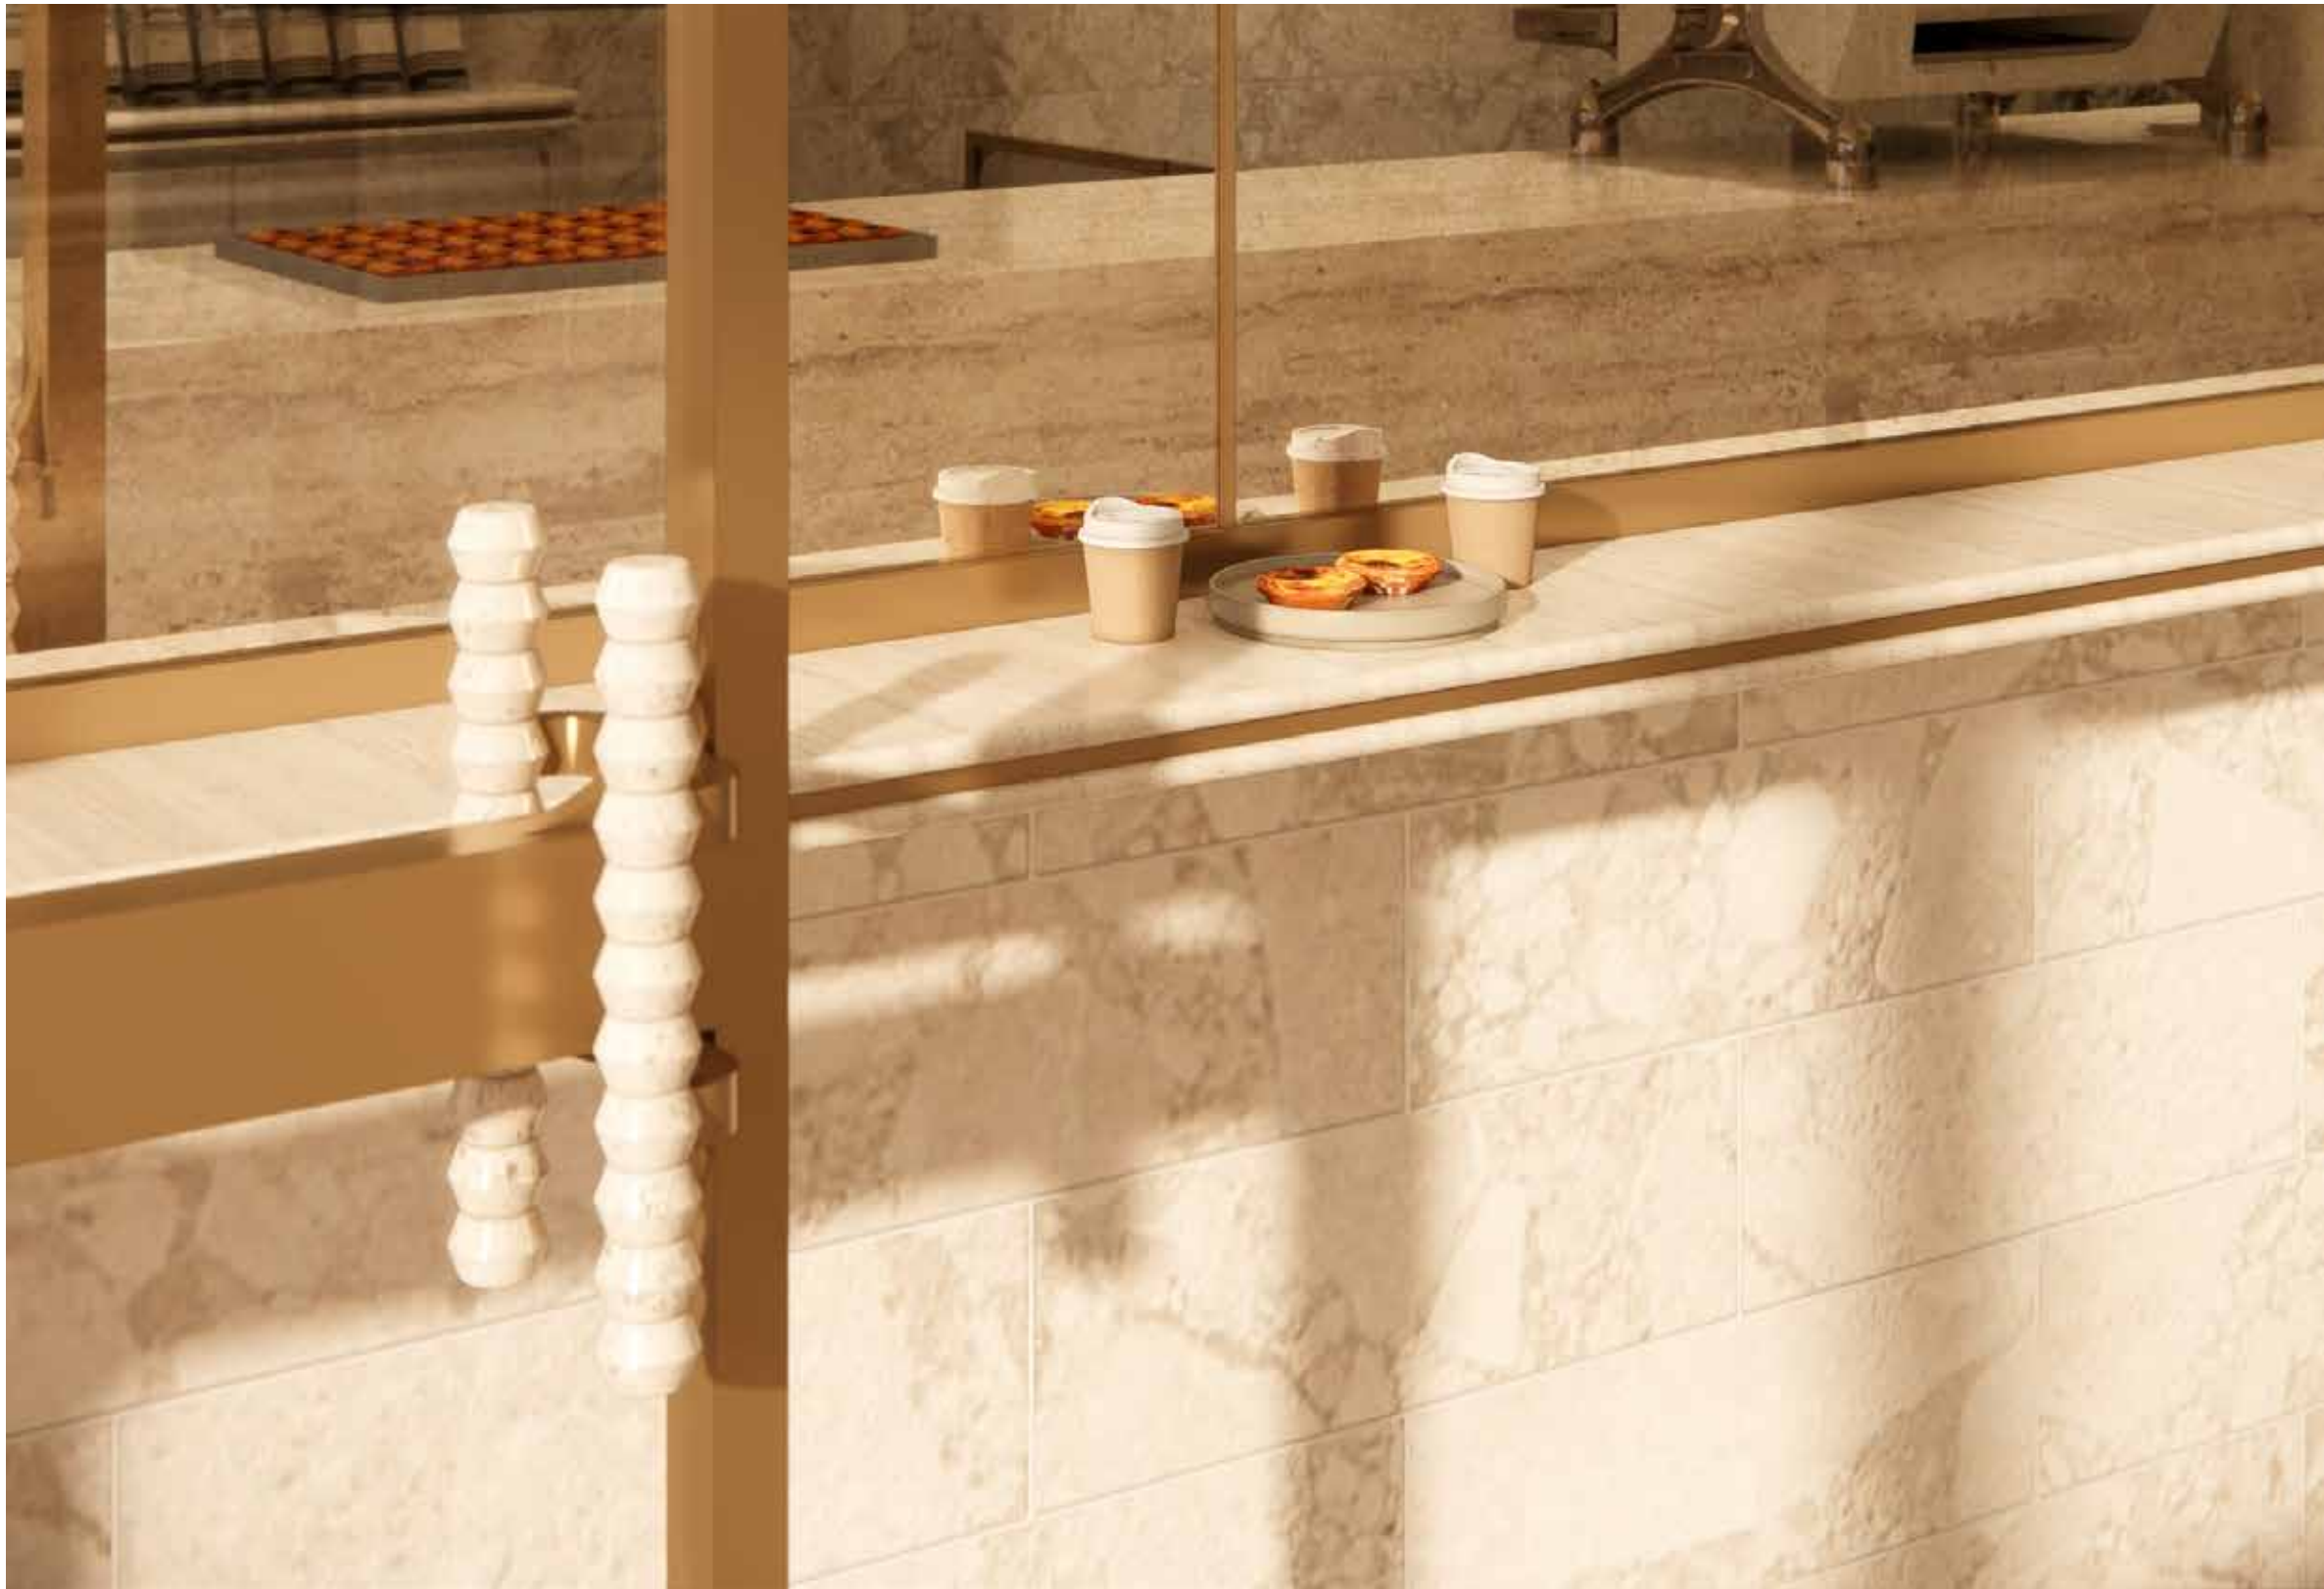

Limitless Adornments

The brand embodies “jewelry without limits”—bold, unbreakable pieces for fearless lives. The two-storey headquarters is a fluid, transformative environment integrating showcase, workspace, and community hub, transitioning from wellness events to intimate gatherings.

The ground floor features an open showroom with modular displays and event-ready zones for styling sessions and community meet-ups within sleek, high-energy surroundings. The upper level houses a versatile hot-desk office convertible into private event spaces, promoting creativity and collaboration.

Resonant Heritage

Refine wall-mounted bar tables with subtle brass accents offer intimate perches for lingering enjoyment. Bespoke marble flooring merges traditional azulejo motifs with Hong Kong’s Classic check-board patterns, while colonial inspired window frames filter soft light, adding authentic local nuance.

Private Office
Hong Kong, Design & Build, 3500 sqft

Private & Confidential

The Brief

EM&C was approached by a private company to update their expanded offices after they leased the adjoining office. The design brief was straightforward; design an office that reflected not only their brand and culture but where they are today rather than where had been.

The entire office was given a fresh, brighter contemporary update. As reading and research is a key component of their brand, attention was paid to the design of the library.
