

Corporate Services Partner Evolving to Changing Times

In a world where social distancing and working remotely are becoming part of corporate culture, a-pass is poised to help entrepreneurs streamline their businesses.

Entrepreneurs thrive in Hong Kong. But that doesn't mean they have to do it alone. Many stand to benefit from flexible corporate services that can help handle their day-to-day operations. Asia-Pacific Accounting & Secretarial Services (a-pass) fulfils that need and helps businesses of all shapes and sizes flourish.

Streamlined corporate services

a-pass brings together the best of human talent and the latest technology across four core service areas: corporate services and company formation, accounting and tax liaison services, human resources and payroll services, and trade documentation and support services. "The world is seeing a strong move towards increased automation," says Robin Harris, Director at a-pass. "That can mean greater efficiency, access and security, but also enables us to streamline the way we work, with teams working from home and conducting meetings online. You don't want to lose that human connection, but you have to evolve and adapt to the times."

He added, "a-pass services cater to entrepreneurs and businesses whether they are just starting out or are already well-established operations. They aim to support the international business community to put global plans into action."

A dynamic, open and business-friendly environment

Harris believes that Hong Kong's reputation as an international business, finance, transportation and trade hub makes it an ideal base for businesses in Asia. "The city offers low and favourable taxation, has a world-class infrastructure for finance and logistics, and is the most open city in the Guangdong-Hong Kong-Macao Greater Bay Area (GBA)," he said. "It's exciting to help our clients harness the energy and potential of the region. This city is home to diverse enterprises and has a vibrant and strong entrepreneurial culture. There's no better place to be in Asia for business."

He added that Hong Kong's immigration policy attracts international talent, who complement the hardworking and highly skilled local labour market. This creates a wide talent pool for a-pass and its clients to choose from. The added support of organisations such as InvestHK helps promote a friendly business culture, grounded in shared values. As Harris said, "a-pass has had a close connection with InvestHK over the years and we welcome its commitment and encouragement. It is a key resource and business partner for us, and many others."

"Hong Kong derives its energy from its unique culture and people. They are driven to pursue perfection and adapt to change. It's our privilege to evolve alongside them," Harris concluded.
