WHO ARE WE?

At 24 Frames, we aim to create inspiring content. With a genuine passion for storytelling, we are a team of sought-after filmmakers who have worked with award-winning producers, artists, multi-national broadcasters and brands.

Starting as a small independent production house in Hong Kong, we've grown, scaled and now have three offices in Hong Kong, Singapore, London and Amsterdam. This gives us a deep understanding of the UK/Europe, East Asian and South East Asian markets.

At the very core, our goal is to change the way that content is consumed around the world. We have a profound understanding of the digital world and social media having developed and distributed our own original content.

Our mission is simple: to create high quality content for brands and broadcasters, fit for the distribution platforms of the present and future.
